

French Launch Attack, Radio Tunis Reports

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

TUNIS (AP) — Radio Tunis said the French launched a coordinated attack by land, sea and air today against Tunisian barricades surrounding the French naval base at Bizerte.

The broadcast reported the city of Bizerte badly damaged in the attacks and its water and electricity supplies cut.

The French were silent on this latest report from the undeclared war aimed at forcing the French out of the big North African base.

But President Habib Bourguiba mounted a diplomatic offensive to back up his civilian-military show of force. He took the case to the United Nations and broke diplomatic relations with France over the issue, a bone of contention between France and its former protectorate long before violence broke out Wednesday.

Tunisian troops and civilian volunteers resisted the French attack "heroically," the radio said, and they suffered numerous dead and wounded.

Radio Tunis said French planes from the carrier, Arromanches, fired rockets in low-level attacks on the barricades. It added that the planes were backed up by the bug guns of the cruisers, Colbert, Bouvet and Chevalier-Paul. This reported artillery barrage appeared to be a cover for thrusts Radio Tunis said were being made by French armored cars and tanks.

Tunisian president, trying to drive France from the big naval base it retained after its Tunisian protectorate gained independence in 1956, told a news conference 24 Tunisians had been killed in clashes with French troops.

Sources in Paris said two French soldiers had been killed and 20 wounded in clashes with the Tunisians Wednesday and early today.

The French also said their commander in Bizerte had turned down a unison request for a truce this morning on the ground that a truce could only be arranged between military forces. The French commander called on the Tunisians to withdraw the women and children among the civilian volunteers swelling the ranks of the Tunisian soldiers around the base.

Bourguiba said a special Tunisian representative would arrive in New York tonight to present a Tunisian complaint against France to the U.N. Security Council. He called for a council meeting tonight or Friday.

Bourguiba, who earlier this year helped bring President de Gaulle and the Algerian rebels together for peace negotiations, was bitter in comments on the French president today.

"The French attitude," he said "is dictated by a persistence of a colonial mentality and by de Gaulle's own obsession for grandeur."

"Once France has lost her colonial complex, then it will be possible for us to cooperate with her," he said.

Says Hoffa Much Too Powerful

WASHINGTON (AP) — Sen. John L. McClellan, D-Ark., said today he thinks Teamster Union President James Hoffa has too much power, and that transportation unions should be placed under restrictions such as antitrust laws affecting business and industry.

Mcclellan said, "Any union or any man or group or combination of unions that has the power to stop the wheels of progress and paralyze industry in this country has more power than the federal government itself."

Mcclellan said that if Hoffa succeeds in establishing a transportation union federation, he could, if he desired, "paralyze commerce in this country and stop the wheels of industry. That's too much power."

The senator, interviewed on the NBC-TV "Today" program, continued: "I believe the transportation unions, in view of the situation that exists today, must be placed under some restrictions comparable to what business and industry have had applied to them under what is known as antitrust laws."

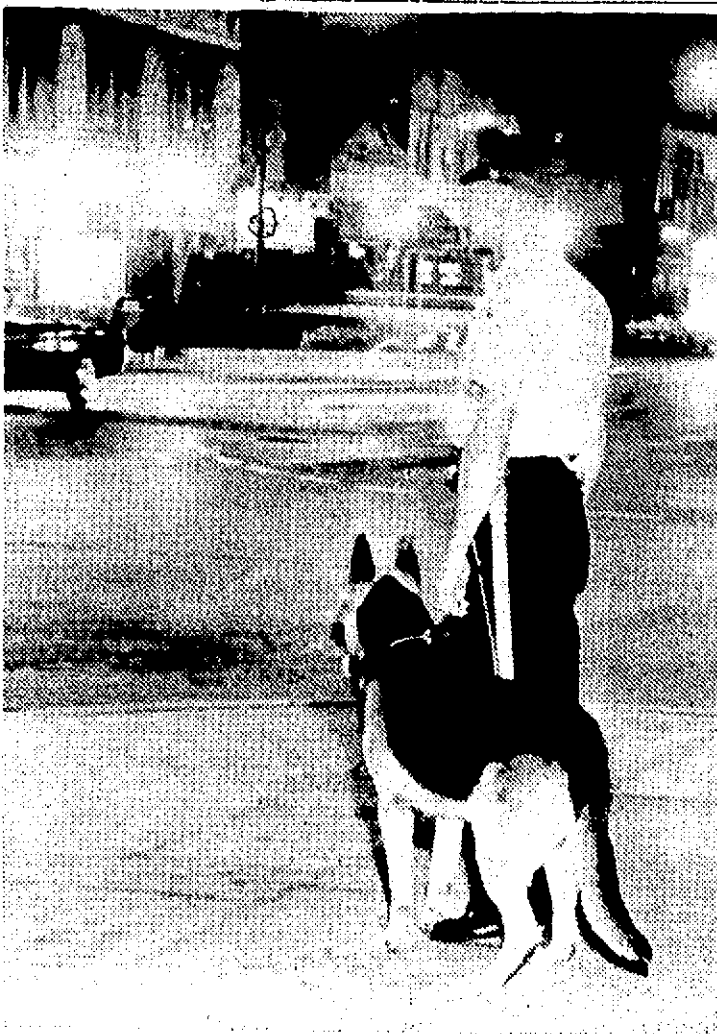

"Mr. Hoffa says he'll never call a nationwide strike. I believe the American people would rather rely on a law passed by Congress than Mr. Hoffa's promise he won't do it."

Kennedy's Aid Bill Okayed in Committee

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Kennedy won a major foreign-aid bill victory today when the Senate Foreign Relations committee voted to authorize Treasury borrowing to finance a five-year, $7.3-billion economic aid loan program abroad.

Sen. Hubert H. Humphrey, D-Minn., said the committee was to act later on Kennedy's request for additional authority to use $300 million a year for five years for repayments of past foreign loans. This would supplement the financing of the development loan program.

Humphrey, who left the committee meeting early, said his recollection was the vote in favor of Kennedy's loan fund request was "about 10 to 7."

Chairman J. William Fulbright, D-Ark., kept the foreign relations group on a busy schedule in an effort to clear the legislation.

The President wants to borrow $300 million this year, and $1.6 billion for each of the succeeding four years.

Some congressmen object to Kennedy's proposed financing. They insist aid funds should be approved in advance each year by congressional appropriations committees. And they want to limit the authority to three years, instead of five.

Supporters of Kennedy's program argue that because Congress often appropriates less than it authorizes, the critics' plan would make it impossible to assure developing nations that funds would be available for long-term projects.

Calvary Baptists Plan Revival

Won't Attend a Municipal Meet

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — City Director G. W. Blankenship said Wednesday that Little Rock probably won't have an official representative at a meeting to organize southern municipalities.

Blankenship met Tuesday with a Louisiana delegation promoting the Aug. 11-12 meeting in Memphis.

"If anyone goes (to the meeting), it will be to find out more about the organization, not to participate," Blankenship said.

The Louisiana group ran into opposition Wednesday in Union City, Tenn., where the executive director of the Tennessee Municipal League, Herbert Bingham of Nashville, said the new organization was not needed.

Bingham said city problems could be handled by the American Municipal League and the U. S. Conference of Mayors.

The Louisiana group wants a more southern-oriented association.

Gas Firm Insists Rate Is Justified

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — Arkansas Louisiana Gas Co. will begin rebuttal testimony in a rate case before the Public Service Commission Monday and will base much of its case on a new rate study.

The study, filed with the PSC Wednesday, contended that Ark-La's annual revenues are $1,684,367 below the 6.34 per cent rate of return the Arkansas Supreme Court has set as fair for the firm.

But W. C. R. Stephens, Ark-La president, said the company does not plan to ask for additional increases to bring revenue to the 6.34 per cent level.

Attorneys for several Arkansas cities protesting a 70-cent increase in minimum rates put into effect by Ark-La April 1 contend that the firm's rate of return on its Arkansas investments is about 7 per cent.

Ark-La estimated that the increase in minimum rates would mean a revenue loss of $1,220,902 annually. The rate study filed with the PSC Wednesday contended that even with that increase Ark-La's rate of return would still be less than 6.34 per cent.

2nd Acquittal in Two Days Won by Ex-Judge Garrett

For the second time in two days a Hempstead Circuit Court jury yesterday acquitted former County Judge U. G. Garrett of a charge of converting county funds to his own use.

Wednesday's case involved $100 which the prosecution alleged that Mr. Garrett pocketed after selling a county-owned tractor to Horace Phillips of Spring Hill.

The former judge testified that $72.50 for the tractor was paid to the county treasury and he paid another $27.50 shortly before court convened yesterday afternoon. As in the first trial Garrett told the court the $27.50 was inadvertently overlooked and that no criminal intent was involved.

The opening case against Judge Garrett involved a matter of $1,141 which was paid twice to L. E. Poteet, local oil and gas distributor. As yesterday, Mr. Garrett testified there was no intent to defraud the county and he paid the sum into the county treasury yesterday after he was found not guilty. He contended the delay was the result of an oversight.

Main witnesses in yesterday's case were Mr. Phillips who testified that he paid $100 to the former judge and Harry Hawthorne, treasurer, who verified the payments made by him.

The jury decision on the first trial took only 15 minutes. The second took more than an hour.

After the decision Judge Lyle Brown dismissed the jury panel for the rest of this session.

Earlier yesterday a jury was unable to agree and a mistrial was declared in the case of Mrs. Wanda Grimmerl. She was charged with renting county equipment, receiving 50 in payment and converting it to her own use. Hopelessly deadlocked the jury was dismissed and a mistrial was declared. The judge did not set any date for retrial.

The trial of L. E. Poteet, charged with forgery and false pretense, was postponed indefinitely. It originally was scheduled for yesterday.

The charges against the three resulted from a grand jury investigation of county affairs.

Prosecution was handled by Prosecuting Attorney Royce Weisenberger and a special assistant, James Pilkinton. Attorneys for the defense were Boyd Packett and C. V. Nunn, Jr.

Integrated Guards Not Favorable

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Pentagon says that no withdrawal of federal funds from National Guard units that do not integrate racially might drastically reduce the guard's effectiveness.

At the same time, the Pentagon has reiterated its policy of integration in the regular armed forces.

These were the views given Wednesday by Assistant Secretary of Defense Carlisle P. Ruge in a reply to Murray Gross, national chairman of the American Veterans Committee.

Last month, Gross, in a letter, said several states segregate white and Negro troops in their National Guard units. He proposed that federal funds be withheld in these cases.

Ruge, the Defense Department's manpower chief, replied that in a number of states "advances in the integration of Negroes into formerly all-white units have been made."

If Gross' proposal to withhold funds from still segregated units were carried to the ultimate, Ruge said, "at the least this could mean a serious deterioration of the effectiveness of these division and units of the National Guard as military forces."

The Arkansas Guard is among those segregated.

Flash Floods in W. Virginia Leave 11 Dead

CHARLESTON, W. Va. (AP)—A violent rainstorm, with boiling clouds so low they seemed to skim the hillsides, deluged Charleston Wednesday night. The downpour transformed brooks into roaring rivers that spread death and destruction down the area's narrow valleys.

Twelve persons were confirmed dead. Six of them were children. Five thousand homes and office buildings were without electricity. The United Fuel Gas Co., in cooperation with the city, cut off gas to a large segment of the city to reduce the threat of fires and explosions.

The storm, in less than four hours, dumped more than five inches of rain on the area—a record for the city.

Small creeks that usually dry up in the summer became raging torrents that picked up buildings as if they were children's blocks and dashed them against each other.

From 200 to 400 homes were reported seriously damaged or destroyed.

Gov. W. W. Barron made a quick flight back to the city from White Sulphur Springs and surveyed the damage quickly before conferring with federal officials flying here from Washington to get a firsthand look.

The known dead:
Sherry Lynn Givens, 9.
Helen Givens, 30.
Frank Sayre, 30.
Carolyn Thompson, about 5.
Alex Voires.
Charles Dexter Jones, 65.
Harry Noll Jr., about 6.

Unidentified woman about 50.

Violent electrical storms left a rising death toll today in flash floods following a record downpour at Charleston, W. Va., and lightning, wind and hail in many Eastern and Midwest sections.

Eleven bodies were recovered by mid-morning at Charleston. Five persons died elsewhere, any heavy property damage occurred.

A four-hour cloudburst loosed 5.14 inches of rain on Charleston and burned the dry ravine, Magazine Hollow, into a crushing torrent which ground frame houses into piles of sodden kindling.

Lightning killed four construction workers near Cambridge, Ohio, when they took refuge under a tree from a severe electrical storm.

Thunderstorms battered west central Kansas. One man was killed when he tried to pull a stalled when he tried to pull a broken power line off a natural gas meter behind his home at Plainville.

Wind gusts were clocked at 120 m.p.h. at the Hays, Kan., airport, where three planes were damaged and the doors of a hangar blown off. Hailstones ranged from the size of golf balls to tennis balls in the storm belt. Heavy damage was reported.

TELEPHONE TALK

Another Mile Stone

Another mile stone was reached in Hope this week as we installed the 4,000th telephone. Comparing the records on the number of telephones for different years, you can see we have had a lot of growth in the past few years. In 1945 we had 1,643, in 1953 we had 2,611 and now 4,000. You can also see that your phone is becoming more valuable every day, as you have more people to call. More new homes are being built in Hope and we hope that the city continues to grow and that we will be able to serve many more people in the future.

Farm Interphone . . . New Time-Saver For Farmers

This month a practical new communications service is being introduced in Arkansas to help farmers get more things done without so much wear and tear on them.

The Farm Interphone should prove to be a real time-saver for hardworking farm families. It is designed to do three big jobs on the farm.

The first thing it does is provide regular telephone service between the house, barn, other farm buildings and key outside work areas. Just imagine how many hours and steps this will save a busy farmer and his family in a month.

Second, the Farm Interphone is hooked up with special loudspeaker-microphones that make it possible to answer the phone — hands free — without interrupting your work.

Finally, the Farm Interphone is installed so that sounds in and near the farm buildings can be heard in the house at night or any other time. It's a kind of "nightwatchman" that tells you of any unusual activities, livestock in need of attention, a pump or other equipment that might act up, or even the start of a fire.

A good farmer is a mighty busy man these days, and the Farm Interphone is designed to help him make the most of his time and energy. For that reason, you'll find it will save you money, also. If you'd like to learn more about how the Farm Interphone can help you, just call the Telephone Business Office in Hope, or ask any telephone serviceman.

Reservists May Get Call by Kennedy

By ELON C. FAY
 AP Military Affairs Writer

WASHINGTON (AP) — Any
 mobilization of National Guard and reserve ground forces may be matched by action to increase correspondingly the tactical air support and airlift transport for foot soldiers.

And this could mean that some Air Force Reserve and Air National Guard men would be called to active duty.

Final details of President Kennedy's over-all plan for augmenting conventional war capabilities in the face of the Berlin crisis and other world tensions were assembled in a long White House session Wednesday.

Earlier, in his news conference Kennedy declined to indicate how much the plan would cost. Speculation has ranged widely, up to as high as $5 billion.

At the White House meeting were the President, members of the National Security Council, and Pentagon Military Advisors.

The session intensified speculation that, among other things, Kennedy would declare a state of limited emergency, under which he could summon some National Guard divisions to federal service and call in reserves, either as individuals or small,
 specialized units.

By law, Kennedy can bring up to a million men into active federal duty under a state of limited emergency. More than that would require congressional action.

Most public attention has focused on the possibility that Kennedy would decide to beef up

ing can be expected.

Campbell will receive $3,885 for checking foundations of the four-year-old building, which has developed structural cracks in the south wing.

The 1961 Legislature appropriated $50,000 for repairs to the building, newest in the state capital complex.

WEATHER WATCHER'S WORKS—A new weather satellite, Tiros III, is streaking around the earth every 100 minutes, about 425 to 450 miles high. Two TV cameras aboard the 285-pound satellite have already sent back valuable pictures of cloud formations. It is hoped that Tiros III will provide new information on hurricanes during the coming season. Major components of the satellite are shown being inspected, above, before being assembled and launched. Tiros I, launched April 1, 1960, took 22,950 pictures in its 78-day life. Tiros II, orbited Nov. 23, 1960, is still operating.

Faubus Wants Money for Parks

MOUNT NEBO, Ark. (AP) —
 Gov. Orval E. Faubus served Wednesday night that he's like to get funds for state parks from a special session.

Faubus said that the $14.5 million omnibus bill invalidated by the State Supreme Court had contained $2.9 million for new parks and improvements to old ones.

"I'm one of those who would like to see it (the legislature)
 salvage some funds for parks," Faubus told a crowd at the Mount Nebo Chicken Fry.

He said the $2.9 million would have been more than has been spent on parks in the history of the state, Arkansas, he said, didn't have to build a park system, but inherited one from federal government projects in the state, largely during the 1930s Depression.

readiness for conventional war by calling up more ground troops.

However, Pentagon officials have emphasized that the review made by the Joint Chiefs of Staff as guidance for Kennedy was for across the board—air and naval as well as ground forces.

Military doctrine calls for a fairly constant ratio of tactical air power and ground forces.

During the past three years,
 the size of the Tactical Air Force has been reduced gradually, now standing at 32 wings. The first military budget submitted by the Eisenhower administration for the new fiscal year proposed again clipping the Tactical Air Force, to a 31-wing total for the year ending next June 30.

This process may be halted
 now, in light of the new emphasis on conventional force strength.

In the reservoir of ground forces which Kennedy can tap are about 900,000 men. This includes approximately 399,000 in the National Guard divisions, 300-000 in the trained reserve of the Army and 208,000 in the ready reserve of the Marine Corps.

Present ground troop strength of the regular Army and Marine Corps totals about 1,032,000, of which 656,000 is Army.

Develops New Way to Make Bone Study

LITTLE ROCK (AP)—Dr. Howard J. Barnard, head of the University of Arkansas Medical School's Radiology Department, took a cue from Hollywood and developed a new method of studying bones.

Linking time-lapse photography to radiology, Dr. Barnard, after experimenting for several years, is able to show in seconds healing processes which have taken months to progress.

The basis research used animals with broken bones.

One case involved a dog with a fractured leg. Dr. Barnard and his associates made X-rays of the break at four-to-eight hour intervals, with the dog's leg held motionless by pins.

The X-rays, referred to as radiographs, were then photographed in sequence and actually showed the steps in healing.

The process is similar to that employed by Walt Disney in making studies of plant growth and marine life.

Dr. Barnard readily admits that he conceived the idea from watching time lapse movies. To learn the technique, he visited Disney's studios in Hollywood.

While the current experiments have dealt mainly with animals, Dr. Barnard believes the technique may yield information on the effect of stapling growth areas of bones, the response of the bones to irradiation, the reaction of joints to foreign matter and in the study of bone tumor growth.

Poultry Market Hits a Low

LITTLE ROCK (AP)—Price of broilers and fryers on the Arkansas poultry market hit an all-time low of 10.5 cents today, the federal-state Market News said.

The agency said that at least 10 per cent of today's total sale of 1,065,600 head went for the bottom price, a record set a few days earlier.

Top reported price was 11 cents, which itself was a new low earlier this summer.

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — Atty.
 Gen. Frank Holt said today his staff may take 10 days to two weeks to rule whether the Legislature can repeal or alter the 1961 congressional redistricting act.

The law has been referred to a popular vote in the 1961 general election as the result of a petition campaign staged by Arkansas, Jefferson and Lincoln county interests.

The petitioners contend the Legislature cannot interfere with an act that has been referred. Cleveland County Rep. Raymond Mays, author of the redistricting plan,
 asked Holt for the legal opinion.

Mays also asked Holt to determine if another petition campaign could force a special referendum on the act before the 1962
 primaries. Rep. C. C. Gathings, D-Ark., says he thinks a special legislative session could take up the matter again.

Unless something is done, congressional candidates face the unwanted task of running at large for the state's four House seats.

Holt said his office wanted to study the matter thoroughly before ruling.

Jefferson, Arkansas and Lincoln counties objected to being placed in a district with northeast Arkansas counties when the Legislature reduced the number of districts from six to four.

Man Rescued From Sandbar

MCGEHEE, Ark. (AP)—Berry
 Middleton Jr., of McGehee was rescued by a towboat today from a Mississippi River sandbar where he spent a mosquito-plagued night.

Civil Defense personnel and sheriff's officers had searched for him through the night in the belief that he had drowned while trying to swim to river.

Middleton said he swam across the river but tried when he tried to swim back. He managed to make the sandbar.

Two companions—Gibbs Ferguson of McGehee and John Uvery of Arkansas City — reported him missing.

Middleton's cries for help went unheeded until after dawn when employes of a nearby Texas Eastern Gas Co. transmission station heard him.

Trial Set for Sheriff Slayed

NEW MADRID, Mo. (AP) —
 Circuit Judge Ray Weighman
 Wednesday set Sept. 20 as the trial date for Daniel Wesley Gray, 24, accused of slaying a deputy sheriff and wounding Sheriff W. L. Ramsey of New Madrid County last year. He deputy was killed and Sheriff Ramsey seriously wounded when they attempted to arrest Gray last Sep.
 12 near Portageville.

Year 18 area wage surveys have revealed prevailing wage rates

 date a year ago.

Arkansans in Murder, Suicide

BOOSIER CITY, La. (AP)—The deaths of Air Force Sgt. Jack Condit, 37, of Pochontas, Ark., and his 26 year old wife were ruled homicide and suicide
 Wednesday.

Police Chief James Cathey said
 an investigation indicated Condit killed his wife with two blasts later remarried.

from a 20-gauge shotgun then shot himself in the chest with the weapon.

Condit was stationed at Barksdale Air Force Base near here.
 The shootings apparently occurred Monday night, Cathey said. The bodies were found Tuesday night by friends.

The couple had repeated marital trouble during their seven years of marriage, Cathey said.
 They had been divorced once but later remarried.

Mrs. Millard Frank Baggett

Miss JoBeth Rettig, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Bertis Lee Rettig of Hope and Mr. Millard Frank Baggett, son of Rev. and Mrs. Millard E. Baggett of Cullman, Ala., pledged nuptial vows at 8 o'clock July 15th in First Presbyterian Church of Hope.

Rev. Baggett, pastor of First Christian Church of Cullman, performed the impressive double ring ceremony before a background of greenery and cathedral candles. Tall arrangements of white gladioli were placed on either side of the chancel rail.

Luther Holloman, organist, provided a program of nuptial music preceding the ceremony, also accompanying Mrs. Douglas Drake who sang "My Heart at Thy Sweet Voice," and Mr. David Pearson, who sang "One Alone." A duet, "At Dawning," was sung by both.

The radiant bride was given in marriage by her father. Her exquisite wedding gown was a Pondera original of candlelight white satin. The fitted bodice was overlaid with Alencon lace and featured a Sabrina neckline outlined with seed pearls. The lace sleeves tapered to a lily point at the wrists. The full flowing skirt made on princess lines swept to a full carriage back. Appliques of lace and seed pearls graced the skirt and train. The bride's fingertip veil of French illusion fell from a crown of seed pearls. She carried a bouquet of white "Fleur d'Amour" centered with a purple orchid.

To carry out the old tradition she wore a new blue garter, made especially for her by a friend. Her veil was borrowed from her cousin, Mrs. William Mesley, worn on her wedding day. In her slipper she had a sapphire which she obtained on her trip to Europe.

Mrs. William W. Mesley of Tulsa, cousin of the bride, served as matron of honor. Bridesmaids were Miss Sally Hardegree of Houston, Mrs. Don Weaver of Commerce, Texas, Miss Anita Cross of Oneida, Tenn., and Mrs. Dan Woodward of Memphis, a sister of the groom.

They wore identical dresses, floor-length sheaths of orchid re-embroidered lace with a flowing overskirt of purple tulle. Short veils of tulle, lace mitts, and matching slippers complimented their costumes. Each carried a bouquet of Vanda orchids.

The bridegroom was attended by his brother-in-law, Mr. Don Woodward of Memphis. Ushers were Mr. William W. Mesley of Tulsa, and Mr. Emmitt Johnson of Memphis.

The bride's mother chose a blue silk sheath with an overlay of embroidery and tiny rhinestones. Her half hat was of tiny forget-me-nots and blue pearls. The groom's mother wore a gown of rose pink lace with matching accessories, and her hat was a rose petal cloche. Both wore corsages of white gladioli.

A reception was given by the bride's parents in their home. The bride's table was covered with a cloth of white satin and net centered with a silver epergne of white Bouvardia and greenery. The four-tiered white cake was beautifully decorated with pale pink roses, a miniature open Bible and small clasping hands. Tall silver candelabra graced the buffet.

Guests were received by Mrs. Alfred Brannan. Close friends of the bride assisted in the dining room. Mrs. J. B. Harbuck of Malvern and Mrs. A. M. Rettig of Prescott, aunts of the bride, served the cake. Miss Beverly Russum of Miami, Fla., presided over the bride's book.

The bride chose a green silk linen jacket dress with orchid accessories and pinned the orchid from her bouquet at her shoulder for her wedding trip. After a short trip to New Orleans they will be at home at 2011 Central in Memphis.

Out-of-town guests attending were: Rev. and Mrs. Millard E. Baggett and Mrs. Frank Bentley of Cullman, Ala.; Rev. and Mrs. Wm. P. Hardegree and Mrs. Nettie Dinkins of Gladewater, Texas; Miss Sally Hardegree of Houston; Miss Anita Cross of Oneida, Tenn.; Mr. and Mrs. Don Woodward of Memphis; Mr. and Mrs. J. B. Harbuck of Malvern; Mr. and Mrs. W. W. Mesley of Tulsa; Mr. and Mrs. Don Weaver of Commerce, Texas; Mr. and Mrs. Douglas Drake of Little Rock; Miss Beverly Russum of Miami, Fla.; Mr. Emmitt Johnson of Memphis; Mrs. Bess Pope of Bagota, Texas; Miss Flora Hart of Texarkana.

Tuesday Bridge Club Meets

At the Tuesday Bridge Club which met with Mrs. George Newbern July 18 the two tables of players included two club guests, Miss Elizabeth Bridgwell and Mrs. Byron Hefner. Cape Jasmine blossoms were seen in the home, and during the afternoon snacks and cold drinks were served.

Shower Springs 4-H Club Meets

Faubus Delivers a Slight Hint

MOUNT NEBRO, Ark. (AP) — Gov. Orval E. Faubus gave the barest hint of his future political plans Wednesday night at the Mount Nebo Chicken Fry.

Faubus noted that other speakers had welcomed his presence without the appearance of three or four other candidates in a political campaign.

Then he said: "If you could promise me the same next year it might help me make up my mind on a problem I might have to solve."

This brought a laugh, for Faubus has been widely mentioned as a possible opponent for Sen.

Bargains in a Variety of Meats

THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
Supermarkets and neighborhood stores figure there is nothing like beef steaks and roasts to perk up summer appetites.

The great variety of beef offerings on the bargain list for the weekend include chuck, rib, cube and round steaks and chuck, rib and round roasts. Ground beef is widely featured, too, for cook-outs.

An abundance of poultry has driven prices of frying chickens down, in some sections of the country as much as 10 cents a pound from a week ago.

Fish specials along the Eastern seaboard and in the Great Lakes region include halibut, shrimp, haddock and whitefish.

In the East, leg of lamb is a special bargain. New arrivals are flooding the vegetable markets from growing sections in many parts of the country.

Best buys among vegetables include beets, beans, cabbage, bulk carrots, nearby celery, Chinese cabbage, cucumbers, endive, scarole green onions, radishes, all type of nearby lettuce, parsley, Eastern potatoes and watercress.

In the good-buy category are broccoli, carrots in film bags, California celery, corn, spinach, eggplant, California lettuce, mushrooms, dried onions, field peas, California potatoes, squash, okra, peppers and tomatoes.

Best buys among fruits are limes, mangoes, small California oranges, cantaloupes, watermelons and nectarines.

Nearly apples, honeydew melons, peaches, plums, apricots and blueberries are good buys.

So Far Its Simply a Word Fight

By JAMES MARLOW
Associated Press News Analyst

WASHINGTON (AP) — So far it's just some more conversation between two hard-of-hearing people trying to tell each other what they told each other before.

All in a few days the Western Allies, answering Premier Khrushchev's threat to get them out of Berlin, told him he was endangering the peace and a Moscow Radio replied that in doing this they were "abetting forces" trying for war.

No hits, no runs, no errors. If this is confusing to anyone it's only because he forgets he was through it all once before as the following series of parallel events the last time and now, will show:

On Nov. 25, 1958 Khrushchev demanded the West get out of Berlin. President Eisenhower wouldn't hear of it. And on Dec. 31 the Western Allies sent the Russian a note saying so at some length.

On June 3-4, 1961 Khrushchev made the pitch all over again to President Kennedy in Vienna. Kennedy wouldn't hear of it, either. And Tuesday the Western Allies sent the Russians notes saying so at some length. On Jan. 7, 1959 the American State Department put out a pamphlet giving the legal and historical reasons why the Allies were right in insisting on staying in Berlin.

In a short time the American State Department will issue a 1961 version of the same pamphlet—called this time a "White Paper"—saying just about what the State Department said in 1959.

And not long after the Allies sent their note and the State Department put out its pamphlet in 1959 the Western foreign ministers agreed to meet to talk the whole thing over.

Now in 1961, after the Allies sent their note and it was announced the State Department would issue a "White Paper," the Western foreign ministers agreed (this was announced Tuesday) to meet to talk the whole thing over.

Since so far everything that has happened is a duplicate of what happened before, it doesn't need much imagination to suggest there will be some more duplicates.

For instance, the Western foreign ministers met with Russian Foreign Minister Andrei Gromyko starting May 11, 1959. The West offered a Berlin plan which the Russian rejected and he offered one which the West turned down. So, after meeting from May 11

J. W. Fulbright, D-Ark., for as a possible candidate for a fifth term as governor.

Faubus then assured his listeners his remarks would be no help to those trying to figure out what he will do. "They still don't know what I'm going to do."

Big Problems Confront U.S. President

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Kennedy is completing perhaps the most nerve-racking first six months any new chief executive has encountered since Abraham Lincoln plunged into the task of saving the Union 100 years ago.

With only a razor-thin mandate from the electorate, Kennedy has been swept in his first half year in office into the vortex of world events he could not control.

The Congo ... Cuba ... Laos ... Berlin ... these crises have flashed across the screen Kennedy has met all with ringing declarations. But his performance has not always matched his talk.

In the Congo, he made it abundantly clear that U.S. forces would be committed to prevent a Soviet takeover. With the aid of the United Nations, this plan worked.

In Laos his talk was not backed up with troops. He found that some SEATO allies, when consulted, had little urge to fight.

In Cuba there was fiasco and disaster. The American-trained invaders had no air cover and were defeated. Somebody in the administration slipped up, it is not quite clear just who, but Kennedy took all the blame.

In Berlin? The answer is yet to be supplied. Kennedy rallied the Allies for stiffly worded notes rejecting Soviet Premier Khrushchev's demand that the Allies abandon Berlin. The next move seems up to Khrushchev.

Open talk of the danger of war has caused Kennedy, meanwhile, to start developing plans for re-deployment of U.S. armed forces.

In the transition of the government from the Eisenhower administration, the new chief executive has evidenced greater determination to regain the initiative from the Communists by cultivation of the neutrals and expanding international economic planning. He has put fresh stress on disarmament and a ban on nuclear testing.

But the Kennedy administration has yet to evolve any brand new policies for dealing with recurring crises. The style may have changed, but the policies scarcely differ from those followed by Dwight D. Eisenhower.

Emmeshed in international affairs, Kennedy has not had the time nor freedom of action he felt he needed to devote to all of the domestic problems pressing upon him.

As a result, major pledges he made to the American people in the 1960 campaign in which he won the presidency by a whisker appear likely to go unfulfilled, at least in 1961.

Unless the signs fail, there will be no action in this Congress on medical care for the elderly, to be linked to Social Security. The chance for enactment of an aid to education bill supplying grants for the school construction and teachers' salaries is almost nil. Congress has rejected his do-it-yourself farm program and is writing one of its own. His request for five-year authority to make $8.8 billion in development loans to fledgling nations may have to be compromised.

He has had to accept a lowering of U.S. prestige—about which he talked much in the campaign—because of the fiasco of the Cuban invasion.

Phone Firm Can Borrow Funds

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — Liberty Telephone Co. of Mountain Home today received Public Service Commission permission to borrow $596,000 to improve and expand its system in Baxter, Izard and Stone counties.

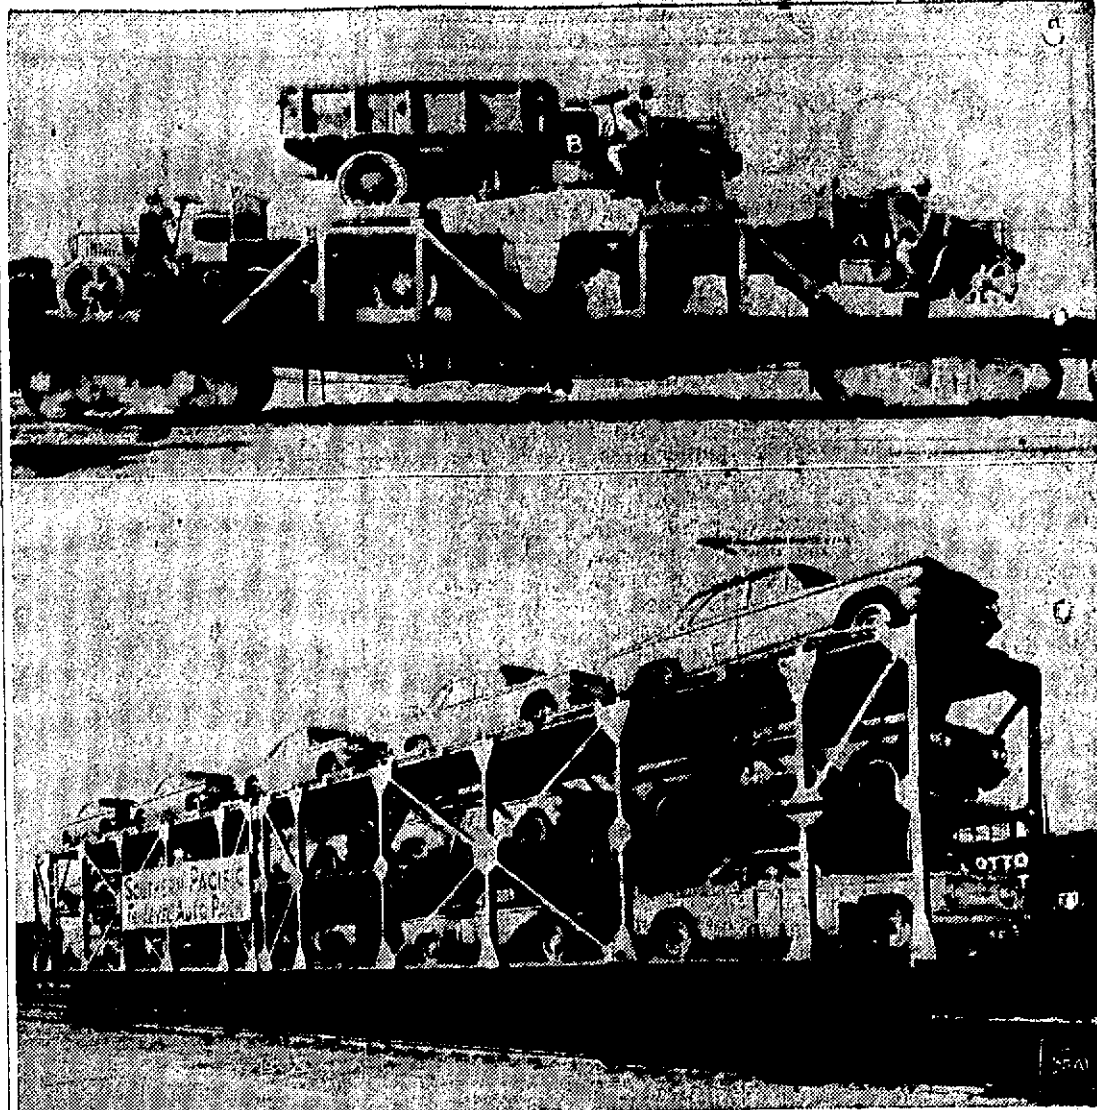

Votes Against Joining Union

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — Employees of Arkansas Sign and Neon Co. of Little Rock Wednesday voted 13-6 against proposed representation by the International Brotherhood of Electrical Workers. The election was supervised by the National Labor Relations Board.

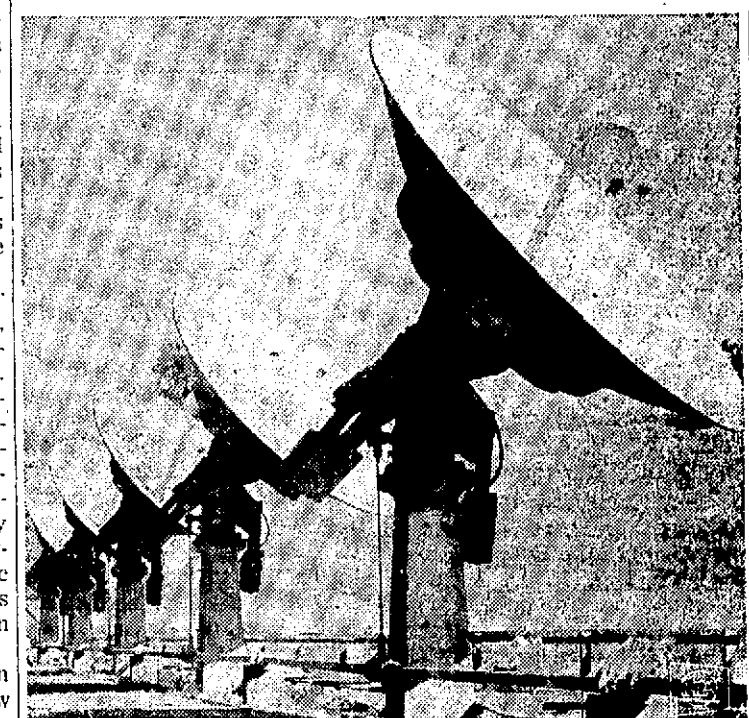

Until August 5, the foreign ministers of the United States, Britain, France and Russia, having gotten nowhere, decided to quit.

Meanwhile there will almost surely be more notes exchanged—and more propaganda—since both sides in this dispute dress themselves in their Sunday clothes to look their best in the eyes of everybody.

There may be critical days ahead—toward the end of the year when Khrushchev's six-months' deadline for a Berlin settlement ends—but meanwhile there should be some bewildering gabble-gabble.

PIGGYBACK PREDECESSOR—There may be something new under the sun, but sometimes it's hard to find it. Take piggyback transportation of vehicles, which railroads have concentrated on in recent years. Way back in 1917, Army trucks were moving along Southern Pacific Co. lines in Louisiana in the manner shown in top photo. Below, modern three-level "auto-pack" permits 15 compact or 12 standard-size autos to be loaded on a flatcar. The 83-foot-long unit has three to four times the capacity of a boxcar.

SOUNDING THE SUN—Old Sol may not know it, but the scientific private eyes are on his trail. These solar radio telescopes, located near Stanford University, Calif., are synchronized mechanically and electronically to scan the sun's surface with a pencil-thin beam. They operate every second of the day. The impulses bounced back give science its best check on what's happening on the face of the sun.

Is His an On-Again Off-Again Love?

By HELEN WORDEN ERSKINE

Dear Helen: Is a widow of 58 an old fool to fall for a man 10 years her junior? At the time we met, he was separated but not divorced from his wife. Their's had been an off-again, on-again marriage, with her walking out and back. He and I saw quite a bit of one another. Then, for the 'steenth time she returned so, in fairness to all concerned, we called it a day. Last year he telephoned in great excitement. His wife finally got the divorce. Now, he comes to see me several nights a week always bringing candy, flowers or a bottle of wine. One moment he carries the torch, for his ex, the next he never wants to see her again. I listen patiently for—I've fallen in love with him, though never, by word, action or look let him know. The difference in our ages haunts me. He tells me how wonderful I've been to listen to his troubles and says he'll never forget me. Do you think he cares at all?—M.

Dear M.: This man is still in a state of shock. From what you say, he sees in you a waiting wall against which to pour out his troubles. Here is a situation which time alone can resolve. Continue the role of understanding friend. Don't force the matter. Incidentally—what were the grounds upon which the wife was granted a divorce? As to your first question, when one nears the 50 mark, the difference in years is of little consequence.

Dear Helen: Ever since I can remember my father has never had a kind word for anyone. He gripes day and night. I am ashamed to bring my school friends home. He wouldn't go to my sister's wedding because he was only her stepfather. My mother has threatened three times to divorce him. She tries her best but he calls her every name you can think of. I can't take it any longer. There's a boy who likes me very much and wants me to marry him. Our only trouble is that we're both so young, but sometimes I wonder. What do you think?—Helpless

Dear Helpless: You shouldn't marry for two reasons; you're that slander suit. By doing so, you descend to the level of the scandal-mongers. George Bernard Shaw's motto, "They say, What do they say? Let them say!" is a wise one to follow. Rest easy. Slander boomerangs!

More than 5,000 products come from American forests.

"so young" and marriage ought not to be considered an escape. It isn't! There are other and wiser solutions. Your father evidently needs a checkup. Physically and mentally. How about seeing the family doctor? Talk it over with your mother.

Send your problems to Helen Worden Erskine. Be sure to enclose a stamped, self-addressed envelope and address her care of this newspaper. Helpful leaflets available. Write for "Are You Sure It's Love?"

Dodgers and Podres Trim Redlegs' Lead

By ED WILKS
Associated Press Sports Writer

The second place Los Angeles Dodgers backed Johnny Podres' nine-inning pitching with a pair of four-run innings for an 8-3 victory at Cincinnati Wednesday night that trimmed the Reds' National League lead to 2½ games.

St. Louis, the hottest club of the moment, kept third-place San Francisco eight games behind by beating the Giants 3-2 in 10 innings. It was the fifth straight success for the sixth place Cards. Milwaukee beat Philadelphia 8-5, but the last place Phils took the second game of the two-night pair with two ninth-inning runs for a 2-1 victory. Rain washed out Chicago-Pittsburgh.

In the American League, the New York Yankees dropped two at Washington, 4-4 and 12-2, but retained a three-percentage-point lead when second-place Detroit lost 4-2 to Baltimore. Cleveland beat Boston twice, 4-1 and 9-4, the Chicago White Sox defeated Kansas City 6-5 and Minnesota and Los Angeles split while setting a major league record with 39 strikeouts in a doubleheader. The Twins won the opener 6-0, then lost to the Angels 2-1.

The Dodgers came from behind with the first of their four-run bursts, in the third inning, against losing right-hander Bob Purkey (11-5). Singles by Norm Larker, Charlie Neal, Willie Davis and Wally Moon, plus Purkey's error and an infield out, did it. Larker, who had three of the Dodgers' 11 hits, and Neal singled again in a four-run sixth, with Neal's hit driving in two.

Podres (11-2) walked only one and struck out four in his first complete game at Crosley Field since July 20, 1957.

Bill White was at it again for the Cards. After tying the major league record with 14 hits in two consecutive doubleheaders, he made it 16 hits for five consecutive games—batting in a first-inning run with a triple and then breaking a 2-2 tie with a single in the 10th. White's error gave the Giants their first run, and Harvey Kuenn's homer tied it in the ninth.

The Phils were blanked on three hits for eight innings by Carl Willey (3-4) in the nightcap, then beat the Milwaukee right-hander on singles by pinch hitter Elmer Valo, John Callison and Lee Walls in the ninth.

In the opener, rookie Mack (The Knife) Jones batted in three runs with a triple and two singles.

Yanks Tripped Twice; Mantle Gets No. 36

By ED WILKS
Associated Press Sports Writer

The New York Yankees lost twice at Washington, 9-4 and 12-2. Wednesday night but retained the lead in the American League race by three percentage points when Baltimore beat second place Detroit 4-2.

Cleveland took two from Boston, 4-1 and 9-4; the Chicago White Sox beat Kansas City 6-5, the Los Angeles Angels took the eighth place from Minnesota by beating the Twins 2-1 after losing the opener of the two-night doubleheader 6-0.

In the National League, the second place Los Angeles Dodgers shaved Cincinnati's lead to 2½ games by rapping the Reds 8-3. St. Louis defeated San Francisco 3-2 in 10 innings, and Milwaukee split with Philadelphia, winning 8-5 before the last place Phils won the nightcap 2-1. Chicago-Pittsburgh was rained out.

Bernie Daniels (5-5) and Dick Donovan (6-6), a pair of right-handers, beat the Yankees holding Roger Maris and Mickey Mantle to two hits in 15 at-bats. Maris was 6-for-7. Mantle was 1-for-4 in each game, belting his 30th home run in the nightcap, off Donovan. That broke a tie with Maris for the major league lead and put the Mick 19 games ahead of Babe Ruth's record-60 pace of 1927.

Jim Gentile of Baltimore regained the RBI lead in the AL with 85, leap-frogging both Maris and Mantle. The Yankees' leading home run hitter, Mantle, had a two-run, third-inning homer that beat Detroit's Jim Bunning 10-7.

Chuck Essegian and Johnny Romano did it for the Indians. They won 10-0 in the opener. Essegian, who had a double, Romano followed with a two-run homer that gave Cleveland a tie in the nightcap fourth, and paired with Essegian again in a clinching, three-run eighth inning.

U. S., Allies to Talk Over Berlin Force

By JOHN M. HIGHTOWER

WASHINGTON (AP)—The United States was expected today to begin immediate consultation with the Allied powers on President Kennedy's decision for reinforcing Allied military power to meet the Soviet threat over Berlin.

Kennedy met with his political and military advisers in a session of the National Security Council at the White House late Wednesday.

Press secretary Pierre Salinger said after the meeting "there were decisions made." He said that the administration now enters into "the phase of consultation with our allies."

Kennedy's specific decisions were not disclosed, but it is believed that he made a basic policy determination to increase the size of U.S. armed forces to meet the Berlin crisis. He made clear at his news conference Wednesday he considers the threat to be worldwide.

Present U.S. regular Army and Marine Corps ground strength totals about 1,032,000, of which 456,000 is Army. In the reservoir of ground forces are about 300,000 National Guard troops, 300,000 trained Army reserves and 200,000 in the ready reserve of the Marine Corps.

Administration officials had been saying privately for several weeks that the developing threats against Berlin by Soviet Premier Khrushchev provide the focal point of danger at present but that the peril to U.S. interest in such distant places as Southeast Asia, which Kennedy himself had mentioned at the news conference, must be taken into account.

Another security council meeting was scheduled for today. But it was understood to have been called to deal with problems other

Shreveport Again Rocks Travelers

By VERNON BUTLER
Associated Press Sports Writer

Ed Stogowski, the Nashville catcher, is generally regarded as a rather tame batter although a stubborn sort of character with men on base. To Chattanooga pitchers, however, Stogowski is a slugging tiger.

The stocky New Jersey youngster hit only four homers in his first 39 games with the Vols while compiling a .256 batting average.

But he has walked three home runs in the past two nights off Chattanooga hurlers. He slugged two last night to help the Vols snap a losing string of three games and beat the Lookouts 7-3. The loss kept Chattanooga from regaining the Southern Association lead, because Birmingham fell 6-5 to the Mobile Bears.

Macon shocked Atlanta in both halves of a doubleheader 7-1 and 2-1, and Shreveport grabbed fourth place from Little Rock by blanking the Travelers 6-0.

CAPE CANAVERAL, Fla. (AP)—For the third time astronaut Virgil J. "Gus" Grissom and 5,000 men giving direct support gambled today against tricky weather to permit his ride into space Friday.

The gamble now is apparently all on weather.

Hope Makes It Victory Number 15

Hope's number 15 came from their best, Arkadelphia last Tuesday night. This is the same team that gave them their only defeat. The game ended in the tight score of 3 to 1.

The game was scoreless until the 5th when both teams scored runs. Two of Hope's were by Jabo Horton, who singled and Gary Barrow, who got one past the shortstop. Run No. 3 came in the 7th with T-Bo Rober coming in.

Hope had seven hits coming from Carl McMurtrey, with two, Jabo Horton, Earl Ray Murphy, Roberts, David Moore and Danny Key each with one.

McMurtrey, hurling for his 9th win of the season, gave up two hits while striking out seven.

Dragline Still Beating River

LITTLE ROCK (AP)—A 220-ton dragline stranded on an Arkansas River sandbar stayed two feet above the swirling waters which crested in the area Wednesday. But Army Engineers say it will be a few days before the water recede enough for the machine to resume its work on a rechanneling project. The dragline was marooned on the sandbar by the rising waters Monday.

Gadgets Are Important the World Over

By SAM DAWSON
AP Business News Analyst

NEW YORK (AP)—You set a gadget that keeps the roast from burning in the oven.

In troubled Kuwait or serene Aruba you would adjust an instrument to make sure that desalted sea water gets just the right amount of soda ash added, as needed, to make it tasty.

The power generating plant that supplies you with electricity has a device that assures a steady pulsing speed—otherwise your electric clock would never be dependable.

Oilmen use automatic gadgets to move widely differing products through the same complex pipeline networks without mixing.

Huge factories start or stop intricate industrial processes much as your thermostat turns the oven on and off to cook the roast to a turn.

It may be a simple switching device to regulate your furnace heat or the most complicated of electronic automation—it's known as process control. And the making of controls grows steadily and their variety multiplies—so does the list of firms making them.

There are now controls to ride on other controls as automation spreads through more industries.

Annual sales of control devices are estimated at around $200 million. And this doesn't include the cost of computers that may be checking up on or improving the operation of these mechanization

Section Got the Attention

DETROIT (AP)—One block of Trinity Avenue in a Detroit residential area received a lot of attention recently.

Residents complained about holes in the pavement. Friday a city truck with a six-man crew spent more than six hours filling the holes with asphalt.

Monday a paving firm crew showed up and started to tear up devices.

"Computer control of processes is rounding out the industrial evolution which began when man discovered the principles of the lever and the wheel," says George E. Beggs Jr. He is executive vice president of Leeds & Northrup of Philadelphia, a veteran maker of control instruments.

During World War I, L. & N. patented an experimental automatic control equipment, forerunner of the refined controls it now makes for industry.

Many automatic controls are involved in the space flights capturing today's headlines.

But they have many down to earth uses, too. They regulate not only temperatures, but humidity, pressure, air pollution, acidity, concentration of flow of gas or liquid radiation, light intensity, mechanical load, weight, size and speed.

Plants such as in Aruba use a control instrument to measure the alkalinity of the desalted water, and if it falls below the standards of human taste the device signals a valve which adds enough soda ash to bring it up to the desired flavor.

Relatively small gadgets can do some mighty big jobs.

Jack Dreams Up Movie and Kelly Directs

By BOB THOMAS
AP Movie-TV Writer

PARIS (AP)—There they were, Gene Kelly and Jackie Gleason, locked in deep contemplation.

They were pondering a scene in "Gigot," in which Kelly is directing Gleason. The set was the hotel of the Parisian hobo, played by the comic. The problem was how to prepare a table to serve another resident of the place, a mouse.

"I think he should take this rag and wrap it around the bottle, like this," Gleason said, gesturing with a flourish.

"To bread," Kelly commented. "It'll be a smash!" Gleason insisted. "Even Mickey Mouse would want to come to a dinner like this."

Kelly suddenly grinned. "Imagine—two grown men trying to figure out how to serve dinner to a mouse!"

That is just one of the inanities concerning this film. The idea was dreamed up by Gleason. If it succeeds, it will be because of an odd wedding of talents—the precise, ballet-minded Kelly and the difficult-to-harness Gleason.

How are they getting along? "Just great," said Kelly. "One thing I can't understand: Why is it that every reporter tries to work up a feud between us?"

"Yeah, what's the matter with you guys?" Gleason growled. "I suppose feuds make news," Kelly said resignedly.

"Why should they?" Gleason demanded. "Why couldn't they print: 'Jackie Gleason loves Gene Kelly'?"

"Nobody would believe it," said Kelly. "I've got a great idea. One of these days when a reporter is on the set, we'll stage a real shouting match. That'll give 'em something to write about."

"Great," said Gleason, enthusiastically. "I'll tell them all about you. How you were such a lousy dancer that Rita Hayworth had to make you look good in those old (accent on the old) pictures."

"Thanks, pal, I can say a few things about you, too," Kelly said.

But their enthusiasm waned, and they returned to their original problem.

"Now if I could set the napkin here and wait for the mouse to come out," said Gleason.

"Imagine," Kelly sighed, "Two grown men..."

Committee Plays Pirate With Schools

WASHINGTON (AP)—The House Rules Committee, enlarged to "protect" President Kennedy's legislative ship of state, played the role of pirate today as the new administration came to the end of its first six months in office.

If the President is chagrined about his deteriorating relations with Capitol Hill, he can lay much of the blame on the doorstep of the committee he helped reorganize after taking office six months ago.

It dealt him a telling blow Tuesday by shelving, probably for keeps as far as 1961 is concerned, a school aid bill ranked among the top five Kennedy legislative proposals.

The committee's action was by a vote of 8 to 7. It affected not only the President's public school proposal but other bills for financial aid to nonpublic schools and for loans and scholarships for college students.

The President took an active, though not open, part in increasing the size of the rules committee early this year in a move designed to break the control of a conservative coalition. His program was supposed to have an edge in the committee which controls the flow of legislation to the House floor. But the so-called "backing" failed to take into consideration religious as well as political undercurrents which entered into the school controversy.

West Germany has spent more than $500 million during the last 10 years on road improvements and new road construction.

Some 500 miles to the south "volunteers" were reported moving across the border into the French-held Sahara, headed toward a French desert post at Marker 233, 25 miles below the frontier near the rich Edjele oil field being developed by France.

The movements were hushed after France refused to bow to President Habib Bourguiba's demand to start negotiations by today on a French withdrawal from Bizerte. France retained the use of the base under a 1957 treaty.

quarreling bitterly. But, as Secretary of State Rusk has pointed out there is little consolation in that for the West and no basis in it for new Western policy making.

In fact, the quarrel may have increased the dangers now besetting the West from the gathering storm over the future of West Berlin and Germany.

In the Moscow-Peking quarrel, Khrushchev at this moment seems to have the upper hand. But he has paid a price, too.

The Red Chinese have by implication, accused Khrushchev of being soft on capitalism. Probably as a result of the quarrel, he seems not so soft on it now as he appeared some time ago.

The evidence at hand indicates the Red Chinese have knuckled under to the Kremlin on this point: Moscow is the boss of world communism and its program.

Bluntly Moscow has told the Chinese, The basic criterion for true internationalism is one's at

Castro Plans New Cuban Policies

By JOSE MARIA ORLANDO

HAVANA (AP)—Fidel Castro and his cabinet met for seven hours Tuesday night hammering out details of new policies the prime minister is expected to announce at the July 26 celebration of his revolution.

Reports have circulated that Castro may announce creation of a single all-powerful proletarian party when he addresses a mammoth rally marking the eighth anniversary of his revolt against dictator Fulgencio Batista.

(Associated Press news analyst William L. Ryan predicted Tuesday that the Communists would be invited to participate in the new party and would rule it in fact if not in name.)

The presidential palace announced that the cabinet during its marathon meeting adopted new decrees:

1. Appropriating more than $6 million to operate Cuba's nationalized private schools.

2. Creating the "National Order of Playa Giron" (site of one of the landings in the abortive April invasion). The decoration will be awarded to "Cubans and foreigners to have fought against imperialism."

Same Policy for Jap Cabinet

TOKYO (AP)—Prime Minister Hayato Ikeda said today his new Cabinet will pursue the same basic policies he laid down when he took office a year ago.

The government's chief aims thus continue to be to double the national income by 1970 and to maintain close alignment with the West, economically, militarily and culturally.

The 61-year-old prime minister revamped his cabinet Tuesday, bringing into it four leaders of rival factions in his ruling Liberal-Democratic Party.

itude toward the Soviet Union," and there can be no Communist success without Soviet cooperation. Clearly this was a warning.

The current quarrel has been going on for several years, ever since Khrushchev's relaxations led to the Hungarian revolution and throw a scare into the Communist world.

The argument reached its height in mid-1960 at a Communist meeting in Bucharest, Romania. It continued at a conference of 81 world Communist parties in Moscow.

Khrushchev accused the Chinese of left sectarianism, apparently meaning they were advocating reckless policies in their insistence that war was fatally inevitable between East and West according to Leninist scriptures.

Judging from the welter of words emanating from the two capitals this seems to be the situation regarding the Moscow-Peking quarrel at present.

Khrushchev has wrung from the Red Chinese an admission that Moscow is the supreme authority with regard to world Communist diplomacy and strategy. Red China, heavily dependent on the U.S.S.R. for its needs, is at Moscow's mercy. While it can resent and argue, Peking cannot rid itself of Kremlin influence. It can hope at best to bring some influential Russians over to the Chinese way of thinking.

In essence, the goals of Moscow and Peking are the same: World rule by communism. Neither can afford the appearance of a deep split. There had to be concessions and compromise.

The Red Chinese stress now that they accept the principle of proletarian internationalism, meaning the rule that Moscow is boss of the world movement. They apparently concede a free hand for Moscow's diplomacy, including a free hand in such Asian situations as the Indochina crises over Laos and Viet Nam. Khrushchev may, if he chooses, use those situations as pawns in his intricate chess game over West Berlin and Germany.

Red China agrees that the balance of world forces is, as the Russians say swinging in favor of the Communists — The east wind is prevailing over the west wind.

Now that the Kremlin has these concessions, it may be coming through with its own side of the bargain.

Khrushchev's announcement of a stepup in Soviet armament, his threats against the West over Berlin, his saber-rattling in general in recent days, sounded belligerent enough to satisfy even the impatient Red Chinese.

Khrushchev may want a victory to show the Communist world and Peking he is right.

If the West backs down and permits it, Khrushchev will have won his point cheaply, and there will likely be pressure for new Communist thrusts, with all the related dangers.

If the West calls Khrushchev's hand, what does the Kremlin do next?

Therein lie the dangers of a Communist family argument.

Beautiful Figures of Arkansas

By BOB HARING
Associated Press Staff Writer

If the new Miss Arkansas, Frances Anderson of Pine Bluff, follows the trend, she'll reign for a year, then marry and become a housewife.

That's the story of most of the 10 past Miss Arkansas winners.

Only last year's titleholder, Claudette Smith of Star City, isn't married. The rules prevent a Miss Arkansas from marrying until she surrenders her title, which Claudette did Sunday.

Most of the past queens have married Arkansas boys and nine of them still live in Arkansas.

Only Barbara Banks of Conway, the 1956 winner, turned to show business as a career. And she gave it up when she married Frank Selvy, Kentucky basketball great who's now a professional player.

Frances is the first blonde Miss Arkansas since 1948. She's also probably the tallest ever selected at 5-feet 10 inches.

Mrs. Selvy has blondish brown hair, but most of the Arkansas queens have been brunettes. There was a time in the mid 1940s, though, when blondes won three out of four titles.

Leslie Hampton of Lake Village (now Mrs. Clyde Scott of Little Rock) in 1945, Pam Kemp of Little Rock (now Mrs. Bill Warren of Magnolia; in 1947 and Van Louis McDaniel of Forrest (now Mrs. William Tucker of Forrest City) in 1948 were the blonde trio.

That skein was interrupted in 1946 by Becky McCall of Blytheville (now Mrs. Bruce Redwine of Houston, Tex.), who went farther in the Miss America contest than any other Arkansas to date. She was first runner-up.

The 1960 queen, Suzy Jackson of North Little Rock, now is Mrs. Graham Thompson and the 1958 winner, Sally Miller of Pine Bluff, now is Mrs. John A. Perdue III of Pine Bluff. There was no 1959 title due to a change in the numbering.

Here's a rundown on the other Misses Arkansas:

1957 — Suzanne Scudder of Hot Springs, now Mrs. David Stubblefield of Little Rock; 1956 — Mrs.

Selvy, now of Los Angeles; 1955 — Sherry Bowers of Helena, now Mrs. Nicholas Farrell Roberts of Berkeley, Calif.; 1954 — Sarah Graves Martin of Little Rock, now Mrs. Harold Meks of Pittsburgh, Pa.; 1953 — Joyce Reed of Hot Springs, now Mrs. Jack Newsum of New York.

1952 — Bonnie Nickie of Hot Springs, now Mrs. Rober (Branch) of Los Angeles; 1951 — Charlotte Simmen of Little Rock, now Mrs. Gene Eberle Jr. of Little Rock; 1950 — Mary Lois Jennings of Hot Springs, now Mrs. Bill Beck of New York City; 1949 — Barbara Brothers of Little Rock, now Mrs. Brewster Harrington of Palestine, Tex.

1948 — Mrs. Tucker; 1947 — Mrs. Warren; 1946 — Mrs. Redwine; 1945 — Mrs. Scott; 1944, Minola Graham of Brinkley, now Mrs. Fritz Gunther of San Antonio, Tex.

Tired Of Barbecue? Serve Easy Chicken Curry

Easy Chicken Curry atop Hot Buttered Shredded Wheat is a delightful change of pace from barbecued foods. It's ideal for a buffet on the patio. You'll like the crisp texture and buttery flavor of the shredded wheat—a good contrast to the chicken.

Breakfast cereals, when used as an ingredient, make contributions of protein, important B vitamins, essential minerals, and food energy, plus adding variety and sparkle to your cooking.

Easy Chicken Curry
1 can (10 1/2 ounce) cream of chicken soup
1/2 cup milk
1 teaspoon dehydrated minced onion
1 1/2 teaspoons curry powder
1/4 teaspoon sugar
1 1/2 cups diced cooked chicken

Combine soup, milk, onion, curry powder, and sugar; heat thoroughly. Add chicken and heat to serving temperature. Serve over hot buttered shredded wheat. Serve with coconut, chutney, and peanuts, if desired. Yield: 4 servings.

Butter-Toasted Shredded Wheat
4 cups crushed shredded wheat, oblong, round, spoon size, or bite size
1/4 cup butter or margarine, 1/4 teaspoon salt

Melt butter or margarine in fry pan; add shredded wheat and toss lightly. Keep warm.

Letters of Type Few Folks Receive

By HAL BOYLE

NEW YORK (AP)—More fragments from letters some people would like to get—but rarely do:

"It is with real pleasure we inform you your recipe for making chocolate-flavored peanut butter patties has won first prize in our national contest. You and your husband can pick up the $10,000 check—and the two round trip tickets to Paris—at our office whenever you..."

"Your boy's feat in pitching a no-hit victory for his kindergarten baseball team has come to the attention of our organization. In keeping with the program of the New York Yankees for long-term player development, we are willing to give your lad a $60,000 bonus to sign with us now. Naturally, before reporting to us, we would prefer that he go on with his schooling—as later it will be necessary for him to autograph baseballs."

"We are returning your check for $75, covering the latest installment due on your loan. When Bascom G. Goodheart, our president, died last month, he left a provision in his will that all outstanding loans be canceled. So you owe us nothing. Would you like to start all over and borrow some more?"

"And so, in recognition of the fact that you are the millionth customer for our new cars this year, the manufacturer is pleased to offer you the model of your choice with our compliments, plus free repairs for the life of the vehicle."

"No wonder you can't grow anything on that old farm you bought for your retirement years. The soil sample you sent is heavily saturated with ground oil. Our advice to you: Quit planting and start drilling—and then buy a home in Palm Beach. You ought to be able to bring in 10 gushers an acre."

"It was one of those unfortunate mix-ups which I'm sure you'll understand. But the fact is we had the wrong X-rays. It is not your wife who is going to have triplets."

"The President was so impressed with your proposal to reduce income taxes that he is placing a special plane at your disposal so that you can fly to Washington to explain it to him in person. While all the cabinet posts are presently filled, there is always the opportunity that..."

Guardsmen in Louisiana Camp

FT. CHAFFEE, Ark. (AP) — National Guardsmen of the 142nd Artillery Battle Group began practice firing today in preparation for combat readiness testing next week.

The 142nd — with 400 men, mostly from north Arkansas — is the first of several Arkansas and Oklahoma Guard units which will take two-weeks of training here this summer.

Army officials said 14,000 Guardsmen and reservists would use Chaffee training facilities during the period.

The 142nd leaves July 30. The Oklahoma 45th Division moves in July 30-Aug. 13 and the 95th Division, with units in Arkansas, Oklahoma and Louisiana will be here Aug. 13-27.

Civil Rule in S. Korea Soon

SEOUL, Korea (AP)—The chief of South Korea's ruling military junta said the junta will announce by Aug. 15 plans for the return of power to a civilian government.

Maj. Gen. Park Chung-hi told a news conference the junta would announce the future form of government and the time of transfer of power to civilians. He refused to give details.

It was the first word that the military regime is making plans to return the government to civilian control.

Jap Firm to Dredge Suez

TOKYO (AP) — A Japanese firm has won a contract in international bidding to dredge the Suez Canal, the foreign office announced today.

Mizuno Gumi Co. of Hiroshima who will sign the $4,720,000 deal with the United Arab Republic government in Cairo July 25, the announcement said.

Plans call for doubling the canal's width and deepening it to about 13.5 meters (44 feet) to allow the passage of more than 45,000-ton ships.

Texarkians Found

SHREVEPORT, La. (AP)— Authorities say there is no doubt that two men found dead in the wreckage of a private plane near Texarkana, Ark., drug company executive, and Hank Wemmers, a salesman from Garland, Tex. They took off from Shreveport Wednesday without filing a flight plan and had been the subject of a search since. A crop duster Monday spotted the wreckage 11 miles north of the Shreveport airport.

Preserves And Personality

Depth researchers would have us believe a woman's personality shows up in the preserves she serves and that it all started back in her mud pie days. We wouldn't know about that but it is a fact that some persons are endowed with creative ability whereas others have little or none.

If you are the creative type, you probably find it fun to serve something which causes family and friends to ask, "What makes it taste so good and so different?" Creative or not, add a gentle touch of ground ginger, pure vanilla or brandy flavoring to pear or peach preserves or use the recipe given below and your status as a preserve maker will zoom.

If you have to buy the peaches, better hurry and do your preserving while choice fruit is still on the market at reasonable prices.

Peach Preserves
with a touch of orange and mace
2 lbs. sliced peaches
1 orange
2 cups water
2 lbs. sugar
1/2 teaspoon salt
3 tablespoons lemon juice
1/4 teaspoon ground mace

Wash, rinse and drain peaches. Cut the thin yellow part of peel from orange; save a 2 inch strip of the yellow. Chop rest of orange; add the piece of yellow and cook in the 2 cups water until white peel is soft. Remove yellow piece; add sugar and salt. Cook until sugar dissolves; set aside to cool. Peel and slice peaches lengthwise. Add peaches, lemon juice (won't need if orange is quite tart), and mace to the orange syrup. Cook until peaches are "clear" and syrup about as thick as warm honey.

Pour preserves into shallow glass or enameled pan. Cover and let stand in cool place 12 to 24 hours. Reheat until peaches are boiling hot. Quickly pour into hot pint fruit jars. Put lid on jar; screw band tight.

Note: This preserve may be canned as soon as cooked but quality is better if fruit is given time to plump before canning.

Stayed Home But the War Followed Him

By TOM HENSHAW
AP Staff Writer

Most people march off to war. But not Wilmer McLean. He stayed home and, to his eternal dismay, the Civil War kept following him around.

It started in his kitchen; it ended in his front parlor.

The story of Wilmer McLean and his flight from the Civil War began on the afternoon of July 18, 1861, in his farmhouse not far from Manassas Junction, Va.

He was entertaining Confederate Gen. Pierre G. T. Beauregard when the big guns of the North and South began dueling across a little stream called Bull Run.

"A comical effect of this artillery fight," wrote Beauregard with a literary chuckle, "was the destruction of the dinner of myself and staff by a federal shell that fell into the fireplace."

Three days later on July 21 the battle of Bull Run the first major engagement of the war, erupted not a mile half's throw from his farm. McLean threw in the sponge.

He packed up his family and retired to a quiet corner of southern Virginia where he was sure the war would never find him. His new home: Appomattox Court House.

There he lived quietly and presumably prospered until the morning of April 9, 1865, when he met a group of gray-clad horsemen riding down the Appomattox Road.

They were seeking, they told him, a well-appointed house where their distinguished companion, Gen. Robert E. Lee, might hold a quiet conversation with another general, Ulysses S. Grant.

McLean offered the best house in town, his own.

Thus it turned out that the man who entertained a Confederate general in his home on the first great battlefield of the Civil War played host to another in the final episode of the war when Lee surrendered to Grant.

The war was over but, wrote an eye witness, McLean's "real trial did nothing until the departure of the chief actors in the surrender."

"The relic hunters charged down upon the main-house and made various attempts to jump Mr. McLean's claims to his own furniture."

"Bargains were struck at once for all the articles in the room, and it is even said that some mementoes were carried off for which no coin of the realm was ever exchanged."

After the war, his home denuded of furnishings, McLean tried to recoup his fortunes by peddling pictures of his house. But, when the excitement had died down, there wasn't much market for them.

Creditors auctioned off his property in 1880 and McLean wandered away to try his hand someplace else, a beaten man who just couldn't get away from a war that started at his doorstep and ended in his parlor.

'Pudding Tarts Are Berry Good

WHEN THE BIG BLUES RIPEN, it's the signal for all kinds of luscious and colorful desserts, not to mention the simple goodness of plain blueberries with cream—a hard-to-beat dish!

For variety, try this easy but unusual version of Blueberry Cream Tarts. Pudding and pie filling mix is used for the creamy filling, and the blueberries are added uncooked, with just a spoonful of melted currant jelly poured over to add its delicious tart-sweet flavor.

BLUEBERRY CREAM TARTS

1 package Jello-O Vanilla Pudding and Pie Filling
2 cups milk
6 baked 4-inch tart shells
1 to 2 cups fresh blueberries
1/2 cup currant jelly, melted

Combine pie filling mix and milk in saucepan. Cook and stir over medium heat until mixture comes to a full boil. Remove from heat. Cool 5 minutes. Pour a scant 1/2 cup of the pudding into each tart shell. (To avoid surface film, place rounds of waxed paper directly on surface of warm pudding.) Chill. Then sprinkle blueberries on filling. Spoon melted jelly over berries, using about 2 teaspoons for each tart. Chill 30 to 40 minutes. Makes 6 tarts.

DAILY SHORT SHORT SUSPENSETTE

LEST OLD ACQUAINTANCE

By LESTER ARNO

The animated hammer quit pounding on the animated brain and the scintillating voice, intoned, "So, remember Cerebrum is better for your health than any other headache remedy, because Cerebrum works faster, faster, faster than ever before!"

Then, the television set darkened for a moment and became bright again as the music from a honky-tonk piano came through the loudspeaker.

On the tube the words "Forgotten Flickers" grew large and then diminished. And the unctuous voice of a narrator began, "Welcome once again to Forgotten Flickers, those silent films that amazed and enthralled grandmothers and grandfather years and years ago. Tonight, Forgotten Flickers bring you the greatest of the vampires of the silent silver screen, 'Thelma La Marino, in that epic of another day, 'He Hungered for Her' or 'If You're Starving, You Can Live on a Rag and a Bone, but What Do You Do with a Hank of Hair?'"

The laughter on the sound track boomed.

A close-up of the lovers embracing filled the screen.

There was Thelma La Marino, her face chalked white, her eyes encircled with black, her lips pursed in an unbelievable Cupid's Bow, her cheeks adorned with two little, perfect moons of rouge.

She wore a harem costume, her midriff bare; her long black hair streaming down her back. Around her forehead was a large circle of brilliant from which came a cluster of peacock feathers.

She reclined on a leopard skin divan and ate from a cistern of grapes.

On the screen a caption appeared: Thelma loved her grapes, but they were just an appetizer for what was to come. She was really thinking about poor Horace H. Hinkle.

Laughter roared from the sound track as the movie cut to a fatuous young man, Horace H. Hinkle was dressed in a morning suit, top hat and carried a stick. In one hand he held a large bouquet of flowers, in the other a box of candy with a huge ribbon tied into a bow. He knocked on the door and it slowly opened.

Now the scene shifted back to Thelma's boudoir. Horace was on one knee obviously pleading for the vampire's favor. Thelma was ignoring him as she fanned herself with a large boa-feather fan.

The screen caption read: oor Horace, little did he know that Thelma was not what she seemed. In truth, Thelma was cruel!

A close-up of the lovers embracing now filled the screen. Thelma looked over Horace's shoulder and grimaced as she clutched a long strand of pearls.

The caption flashed on: One year later, Thelma's front door."

The fake snow came pelting down. Horace, his clothes in tatters, shivered in the doorway. Suddenly, the door opened. In silhouette, Thelma embraced a tall, handsome stranger. Suddenly, she caught a glimpse of Horace. She leaped back and laughed, drawing the stranger behind the beaded curtains.

The voice of the narrator came over the loudspeaker:

Such was the way of the vamp with the man who loved her neither wisely nor well. Such was the way of Thelma La Marino."

The woman arose from her chair and turned the "off" knob of the television set with a vigor surprising for one so old, so frail.

"Leave me alone! Leave me alone, can't you? Can't you let me die in peace?" cried the old woman who was Thelma La Marino.

Next Space Men Will Have Worries

By BOB CONSIDINE

CAPE CANAVERAL, Fla.—The current crop of astronauts does not have to worry about it, but the next crop and the crops beyond will have a special problem. It is the question of where space begins.

Frances Gary Powers, employed by the C.I.A., was shot down over Sverdlovsk on May 1, 1961. He was in solitary for weeks. By the time he was ready for public trial, he recited his self-accusations in the sing-song monotone of a schoolboy venting "Old Ironsides at anchor lay."

Khrushchev broke up the Paris summit in the wake of the shot-down of the U-2 aircraft. The affair, and our fumbling first effort, and our fumbling first efforts to lie it away, tainted a good man's last months in the White House.

Last week there wasn't a peep out of Khrushchev when we put Midas III into polar orbit, 1,800 miles out. It will pass over some portion of the Soviet Union every three days. We propose to put up a necklace of these heat-detecting satellites in order to maintain a constant vigilance. They are built to discover—and send back warnings to the U. S.—such bursts of heat as spew from the tails of rising rockets.

Does a country's sovereignty include everything above it as well as everything on and below its surface? If we could do nothing about Powers, who was shot down—he testified—at 68,000 feet, would we be equally passive if the Russians shot down our spying satellites at greater heights? What would happen if a manned space capsule swept over the U.S.S.R. by accident or design and the Russians shot it out of orbit?

Each of the two great space powers is secretly developing anti-satellite missiles. It's a cinch that if the Russians put their version of Midas or Tiro—the photo taking satellite—in regular orbit over the U. S. we'd step up our anti-satellite program. The same sort of thinking must be afoot in the U.S.S.R.

Messrs. Shepard, Glenn, Grisom and the other four spacemen will probably be reduced to the role of faculty members of our Space University—which institution by the time the question of ion 1 here in solar riv 31 space-erign land became a grave issue. Indeed, they may have been retired from active space flying before the Saturn booster (which will be as tall as an 18-story building) lobs the three-man Apollo capsule on its modest way.

Our astronauts are getting along in years. The nature of their trade is such that only the young and fit need apply. The physical and psychological demands would kill. Incapacitate and-or render non-compos mentis a towering majority of American men called upon to weather similar stresses.

When the first group of astronauts gets into the final phases of Project Mercury—orbital flights—the trajectory will carefully guide them only over friendly lands and seas. They will be in as little danger of being shot down as, say, a Pakistani airliner flying over Karachi. But Project Mercury is to space probing what Columbus's tentative voyages to the Azores were to the exploration of the Atlantic and Pacific.

Beyond Project Mercury lies an infinite realm. The surface of the technology has scarcely been scratched. We (and the Russians, you can be sure) one day will have atomic-powered aerial fleets capable of remaining aloft as long as the endurance of the crew holds out. We'll soon have the bomb-bearing Dyna-Soar skipping along the upper crust of the earth's atmosphere just as a flat stone bounces off water.

History somberly records that for every weapon there is a counter-weapon. It will not be many years before that is true, too, of space.

More than a million visitors a year tour the historic rooms of the White House.

Gas Carrying Warheads in Preparation

By ELTON C. FAY

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Army apparently is preparing to issue missile warheads that could carry chemical warfare gases deep into an enemy's battle zone.

This was indicated by a new regulation listing supply responsibilities of branches of the Army which included among the items warheads for "guided missile chemical agent."

By Army definition, a chemical agent is a solid, liquid or gas which "produces lethal, injurious or irritant effects."

In production or being perfected is a wide variety of chemical gases. They range from the long-manufactured asphyxiating gases, now in modern form, to the so-called "nerve gases" capable of producing either death by paralysis of the respiratory system or temporary incapacitation by psychological or other effect.

A whole family of missiles is in the Army's arsenal capable of varying from those with ranges of few thousand yards for close-in attack on a battle front to the Pershing missile with a reach of more than 200 miles.

The longer-range missiles carrying, for instance, an incapacitating gas obviously would be useful for tactical purposes, including softening up an area behind enemy lines preparatory to a parachute drop.

Modern arms for ground troops have been given a priority recently under President Kennedy's program aimed at improving the capability of conventional forces

—as distinguished from the nuclear striking power of the Air Force and Navy.

At a recent House Appropriations subcommittee hearing, another witness W.E. Black of the Army Chemical Corps' Intelligence Agency—said it is believed the Soviet Union has stocks of both regular poison gases "as well as nerve agents."

The state flower of Montana is the blueberry.
